

Information Governance

Training and Consultancy

Bulwark Consulting Limited

Providing organisations with the relevant skills and knowledge to ensure compliance with key legislation, enabling them to share information where appropriate in a lawful manner.

Information systems supporting GP practices are essential for clinical care, patient administration and rewarding GPs for work undertaken under the QOF.

Raising staff awareness of Information Governance is essential for the development of a modern workforce. It is critical that all staff have an understanding of current legislation and local policy including Data Protection, Common Law Duty of Confidence, Computer Misuse, Caldicott and Freedom of Information.

A number of training sessions have been developed to provide staff with a sound understanding of these areas. These sessions can be undertaken independently or as a course, building on previous knowledge.

All course outlines describe the generic areas covered. Bespoke courses can be developed to address specific issues within an organisation. If you would like to discuss a bespoke course please contact us at enquires@bulwarkconsulting.com

New courses are currently being developed, for further information please visit our website at www.bulwarkconsulting.com
